Comments

“ To the family of the deceased, please accept my condolences on behalf of my family and I. As recorded in the Bible, there is hope for our loved ones who have fallen asleep in death. Yes, " There will be a resurrection " (Act 24:15). Think how it will feel when we are reunited with them. You'll no doubt feel how a family mentioned in the Bible felt when Jesus resurrected their daughter at Mark 5:42. " They were beside themselves with great ecstasy ". Resurrections in the Bible, including Jesus', are a glimpse into what will happen in the future. But for now, know that God can comfort us in all our trials, even the death of a dear family member or friend as this one (2 Corinthians 1:4).
