“ I remember when he would come out to see me and my mom and we'd also go to the local flea market every Saturday morning. He always bought us all breakfast too! (that was my favorite part) Inside the flea market they also had a small kitchen that made some of the best homestyle breakfasts. We would have a blast just checking out other folks' unwanted "junk" afterwards. He was the most kind hearted man I've ever known. He will forever be in my heart. I love you and miss you Papa. ~Jessica Stepp
